

Welcome to Sapsucker Woods

Enjoy Your Visit and Please:

- Stay on marked trails
- Service animals welcome. No pets
- No bicycles
- Observe wildlife from a distance
- Leave what you find

Legend

- Parking
- Boardwalk
- Bench
- Pavilion
- Poison Ivy Grows Here
Stay on trails to avoid contact

Land Acknowledgment: Cornell University is located on the traditional homelands of the Gayogghó:nq' (the Cayuga Nation). The Gayogghó:nq' are members of the Haudenosaunee Confederacy, an alliance of six sovereign Nations with a historic and contemporary presence on this land. The Confederacy precedes the establishment of Cornell University, New York state, and the United States of America. We acknowledge the painful history of Gayogghó:nq' dispossession, and honor the ongoing connection of Gayogghó:nq' people, past and present, to these lands and waters.

What's Happening in the Woods?

Sapsucker Woods is a vibrant sanctuary brimming with wildlife and regularly used by researchers. See something interesting on the trails? Stop by the front desk to learn more about current studies and wildlife sightings.

In Case of Emergency
Contact Cornell University Police
(607) 255-1111